Metropolitan Statistical Area

Source: U.S. Bureau of the Census: Metropolitan Areas. New areas usually are added annually; definitions of existing areas updated only after each decennial census, in years ending in 3. <http://www.census.gov/population/www/estimates/metroarea.html>

Definitions:

The general concept of a metropolitan area is that of a large population nucleus, together with adjacent communities having a high degree of social and economic integration with that core. Metropolitan areas comprise one or more entire counties, except in New England, where cities and towns are the basic geographic units.

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) defines metropolitan areas for purposes of collecting, tabulating, and publishing federal data. Metropolitan area definitions result from applying published standards to Census Bureau data.

A metropolitan area identified as a consolidated metropolitan statistical area (CMSA) has a population of one million or more and also has separate component areas (PMSAs - primary metropolitan statistical areas) meeting statistical criteria and supported by local opinion.

Summary Metro Area Data (and Source)

Population (2000 Census):	1,126,217
Foreign-born Population (1990 Census):	67,898
Share Foreign Born (1990):	6.8%

Projected Population 2025 (FAIR):	1,568,900

METRO AREA POPULATION

According to the 2000 Census, the population of the Monmouth-Ocean Principal Metropolitan Statistical Area (PMSA) was 1,126,217. That was an increase of 14.2 percent above the 986,327 residents in 1990. During the previous decade, the metro area's population increased by 16.1 percent from 849,231 residents in 1980.

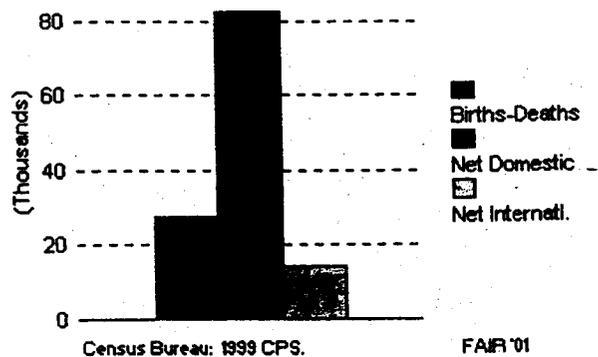

The metro area is composed of Monmouth County (54.6% of the area population in 2000) and Ocean County (45.4 percent of the population).

According to the 1999 CPS, the Monmouth-Ocean PMSA population has increased by nearly 122,600 (12.4%) since 1990 to 1,108,975. This was due to an increase of residents from natural increase (births-deaths) and the arrival of more native-born persons than were leaving. In addition the area had an increase from net international migration (immigration) of over 14,000.

Monmouth-Ocean PMSA
Population 1900-2000

Monmouth-Ocean PMSA
Sources of Population Change 1990-99

The net international migration data understate the impact of immigration on a locality because they record only the arrival of immigrants from abroad -- not those moving within the country, and the children born to immigrants after their arrival are not part of the immigrant settlement data -- they become part of domestic population change.

FOREIGN-BORN POPULATION

In 1990, the foreign-born population of the metro area was 67,898 foreign-born residents. That constituted a foreign-born population share of 6.8 percent.

Shore Region

Eastern New Jersey

This area starts with Sandy Hook, where New Jersey first meets the Atlantic Ocean. Some of the Shore's top boardwalk attractions are in this region-like Jenkinson's Pavilion and Aquarium on Point Pleasant Beach, a complex of rides, arcades, games, mini golf and a new fun house, which features a revolving tunnel. Also, Keansburg Amusement Park, founded at the turn of the century, which features Runaway Rapids and the thrill rides: Chaos and Tornado, among others. Another full-of-fun boardwalk is at Seaside Heights with its outstanding water park, exciting rides for all ages and the State's only beach sky ride. The State's natural gifts are accessible at Island Beach State Park, with over 3,000 pristine acres providing serenity for swimming, picnicking, and bird watching. ## Monmouth County History

taken from "HISTORICAL AND BIOGRAPHICAL ATLAS
OF THE NEW JERSEY COAST Originally published by Woolman & Rose of Philadelphia 1878

History of Monmouth County-1878

This county was established in 1675. Its boundaries were not definitely settled until 1709 and 1713. In 1850 the southern portion was constituted into a new county, called Ocean. It is bounded on the north by Raritan Bay, east by the Atlantic Ocean, south by Ocean County, west by Mercer and Middlesex counties. The surface is level, excepting in the township of Middletown. The Highlands of Navesink and the range of hills projecting from them lie in this township and break up its surface into rolling uneven land.

Agriculture is the chief employment of the inhabitants, and many of the farms are in a high state of cultivation. Marl is found in great abundance.

The townships in the county which come within the limits of this work are, Wall, Howell, Ocean, Atlantic, Eatontown, Shrewsbury and Middletown.

This country was first settled about the year 1664, by Dutch settlers from New Amsterdam and a few English from Long Island. The latter seem to have fled from Puritan persecutions, which had followed them even to the remote settlement on the western end of that island. They were Quakers and Baptists. It is stated by some writers that they first settled under the grant of the Nicholls patent, but there are reasons to believe that settlements had been made in this county before the surrender of the Dutch. When Lord Berkeley and Sir George Carteret assumed the government of the province they published a very liberal code of concessions, to induce emigrants to settle in the country.

These concessions, dated the 10th day of February, 1664, were made to all who would settle or plant in their possessions, and had the desired effect of attracting numbers of persons, not only from neighboring colonies where they were subject to disabilities, but also from England, Scotland, Ireland, and other parts of Europe.

Among these concessions, item 6th and 7th declares that "all persons that are or shall become subject to the King of England, and swear, or subscribe allegiance to the King, and faithfulness to the Lords, will be admitted to plant and become freemen of the said province," and that "persons qualified as aforesaid shall not at any time be in any way molested, punished, disquieted or called in question for any difference in opinion or practice, in matters of religious concerns, who do not actually disturb the peace of the said province, but that all and every such person and persons may freely and fully have and enjoy his and their judgments and consciences in matters of religion throughout the said province, they behaving themselves peaceably and quietly and not using this liberty to licentiousness, nor to the civil injury or outward disturbance of others, any law, statute, or clause, contained or to be contained, usage or custom of this realm of England, to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding."

Such was the effect of these liberal offers, that within twenty years from that time, it was considered the most wealthy county in the province, and paid a larger share of taxes than any other. Its exposure during the Revolutionary War to the raids and barbarous invasions of the refugees and royalists from New York cities, have already been alluded to.

A large portion of the lands in the northern part of this county are held under the Monmouth patent or Nicholls patent.

New Jersey

History

Overview of Ocean County

Ocean County is located in the Atlantic Coastal Plain in central New Jersey. The County is the second largest in the State in terms of size and one of four New Jersey counties which border the Atlantic Ocean. Toms River, in Dover Township, serves as the County Seat and is centrally located within Ocean County. The County is in close proximity to two of the Nation's largest metropolitan centers, New York City approximately 60 miles to the north and Philadelphia roughly 50 miles to the west. In addition, Atlantic City is located approximately 50 miles to the south of the County Seat. These metropolitan areas are easily accessible to Ocean County via several major highways, as shown on the Regional Location Map.

Although Ocean County has been settled since colonial times, its presence as a separate political entity is of relatively recent origin. The County was created from lands divided from Monmouth County in 1850. For much of its early history, the County was a rural, agricultural and fishing center. During the latter part of the 1800's and through the 1900's, the resort industry of the New Jersey Shore developed, and the commercial activities associated with seasonal resorts quickly became the County's economic mainstay.

In the early 1950's, there began a nationwide trend towards suburbanization as people moved outward from the older urban centers into previously sparsely populated or rural areas. The opening of the Garden State Parkway in 1954 permitted access to a large amount of undeveloped and inexpensive land within commuting distance of the labor markets of New York and northern New Jersey. The County also became a desired location for people who wanted to retire away from the more industrial areas to the north. A primarily rural County with a population of 37,675 in 1940, the County's population increased to 433,200 persons by 1990. As evidenced by each of the decennial Censuses during this fifty year period, Ocean County was the fastest growing county in the State. Almost all of this growth was due to in-migration, rather than the natural increase of the population.

Development in Ocean County has traditionally occurred along the coastal beaches and in the corridor formed by the Garden State Parkway and US Route 9. Major interchanges along the Garden State Parkway have encouraged development along eastwest corridors, such as County Routes 526 and 528; State Highway 37 and State Highway 72. Interstate 195 is a relatively new highway which is playing an increasing role in the development of the northern portion of the County. The Interstate provides direct access to the major employment areas of Trenton, the State Capitol, to the west and Monmouth County to the northeast.

With the growing year round population, Ocean County's economic base has become increasingly diverse, with a variety of industries now supplementing traditional tourist related businesses. The growth in employment opportunities within Ocean County is now becoming as notable as the population growth was in the recent past. Over the last ten years, Ocean County has had one of the fastest increases in new jobs in the State. The Health Care Industry has been by far the fastest growing employment sector and is now the top employer in the County. Employment projections released by the NJ Department of Labor show that Ocean County will continue to be at the forefront of New Jersey employment growth well into the next decade.

Despite the large growth in population and employment, Ocean County maintains a vast amount of protected open space which will ensure the balanced land use of the area in the future. Much of the area west of the Garden State Parkway contains large tracts of State Parks, Forests and Wildlife Management Areas. In addition, approximately 20,000 acres east of the Parkway are protected under the Edwin B. Forsythe National Wildlife Refuge. The Barnegat Bay and Little Egg Harbor, which stretch nearly the entire north-south length of the County, were recently added to the US National Estuary Program and will be the subject of continuing environmental protection efforts. In the northwest portion of the County, active farmland is being preserved through the County Farmland Preservation Program. To date, over 1,580 acres of productive farmland have been preserved just outside of New Egypt, in Plumsted Township. In addition, the Ocean County Parks Department maintains an active capital program for parkland acquisition and development to ensure that a variety of recreation opportunities are in close proximity to residents throughout Ocean County. As always, the coastal beaches of Ocean County are foremost among the County's attractions and continue to draw thousands of seasonal visitors to the area each year.

The Garden State Parkway

The 173-mile Garden State Parkway runs north and south, through 50 municipalities in 10 counties, from the New York line at Montvale to the Cape May Ferry in Cape May. The original Parkway construction was financed by Authority bond issues totaling $330 million.

Designed to allow motorists as many convenient entrances and exits as possible along its route, the Parkway maintains a total of 359 exits and entrances. Tolls are collected at both barrier tolls (a total of eleven) and some exit and entrance ramps (a total of twenty), the most appropriate and cost-efficient system for Parkway patrons whose average distance per ride is 15 miles.

In July 1987, the Authority took over the operation of three sections of the Parkway, totaling approximately 20 miles, which had been the responsibility of the New Jersey Department Of Transportation.

A carefully landscaped roadway, the Parkway offers scenic vistas and flowering vegetation along much of its route. There are 488 parkway bridges, including the Driscoll Bridge over the Raritan River. The Authority maintains three picnic areas and nine Service Areas: Montvale, Brookdale North & South, Vaux Hall, Cheesequake, Monmouth, Forked River, Atlantic City and Ocean View. All except Brookdale North offer a restaurant & a fuel station. Welcome and information centers are located at Montvale in Bergen County and Ocean View in Cape May County. In addition, 19 commuter parking lots, providing more than 4,500 parking spaces, are located at intervals along all 173 miles.

The entire Garden State Parkway is patrolled by New Jersey State Police Troop "E", headquartered in Lincroft with substations at Bloomfield, Holmdel & Bass River. The Highway Authority, under contract with the Division Of Law And Public Safety, pays the salaries and all operating and maintenance aspects of the State Police assigned to the Parkway.

The New PNC BANK ARTS CENTER
AT GARDEN STATE

The legislation which directed the New Jersey Highway Authority to construct and operate the Garden State Parkway also gave it the responsibility to develop roadside recreational facilities. From that charge came the creation of New Jersey's premier showcase of the arts – The Garden State Arts Center – located in the 400-acre Telegraph Hill Nature Area in Holmdel, Monmouth County.

Ground was broken on May 2, 1966 and the Arts Center opened on June 12, 1968. The design by the distinguished American architect Edward Durell Stone consisted of an open-sided, circular amphitheater. In September 1995, the Highway Authority accepted a plan to privatize the operations that would increase the theater's capacity in 1998 to approximately 17,500. In 1996, the Arts Center was renamed per an agreement with

The Authority was created by an Act of the New Jersey State Legislature on April 14, 1952 and charged with the construction of a self-supporting toll road to run to and along the New Jersey shoreline and the development of recreational facilities along its route. The Act empowered the Authority to issue bonds to finance the construction and to establish and collect tolls to pay for the cost of construction, maintenance and operations.

The New Jersey Highway Authority is an independent revenue bond authority of the State of New Jersey. What is Planet Kid?

Planet Kid is Monmouth Mall's kids club for children ages 2 - 12. Each month, the mall sponsors activities for club members. The types of activities vary from craft projects to entertainment events. Every six months, a newsletter is mailed to all members. The newsletter provides information about the next six months of activities and lists dates, times and descriptions of the events and whether or not pre-registration is required for the event. Pre-registration is often required for craft projects in order to make sure that there are enough supplies. Occasionally, members will also receive a postcard in the mail announcing an upcoming special event or promotion.

How does a child join? Joining Planet Kid is very simple. All that's required is for a parent to fill out a brief, one page application. (We are concerned about kids and their safety. As per the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act, we do not collect information electronically from children. That is why we do not allow children to register over the Internet.) Applications can be obtained at either the Customer Service Center located near the Food Court or at a Planet Kid activity. Each new member receives his or her own membership card.

How much does it cost? Membership, as well as all of the activities, are free of charge.

Questions? If you have additional questions or would like to sign your children up, please visit the Monmouth Mall Customer Service Center located on the mid-level near the Food Court.

Dear Amy:

Thank you for your question concerning number of annual visitors to Monmouth Mall. We unfortunately do not have traffic counters at Monmouth Mall so I can only give you my best guest estimate which would be between 14 and 16 million visitors a year. I have no way of knowing how many of these visitors are from the Monmouth-Ocean County area.

I apologize for not being able to provide you with more exact information.

Sincerely,

GENERAL INFORMATION

Brookdale in Brief

Brookdale Community College, located in the Lincroft section of Middletown Township, is an excellent resource for residents of Monmouth County, New Jersey. The College offers associate (2-year) degrees in over 50 programs, plus noncredit classes in many areas of personal and professional interest.

The College was founded in 1967 and is sponsored by the citizens of Monmouth County through the Board of Chosen Freeholders. Equal opportunity for all is a College mandate; the College does not discriminate against anyone on any basis, either in education or in employment practices. An appointed Board of Trustees sets policy, fixes tuition and fees and continually monitors education programs.

For the Fall 2000 term, Brookdale enrollment was 11,552 full and part time students, with some 70 percent attending Brookdale with the goal of transferring to a four-year institution. Many are eligible for various forms of Financial Aid administered through the College, including federal and state grants and loans, and private scholarships offered through the Brookdale Foundation.

College faculty – 98 percent of whom have Master's degrees or higher—are dedicated to student success. All students are encouraged to participate in the many campus events, clubs, guest lectures and athletic programs offered through the Office of Student Life & Activities. Brookdale also provides a wide range of Student Services including Cooperative Education, Work-Study, Paid and Unpaid Internships, Service-Learning, Graduate Placement, and Services for Persons with Disabilities.

Brookdale also operates various education sites around Monmouth County, through its Office of Off-Campus Services. These community learning centers offer neighborhood access to Brookdale's credit and noncredit programs, and educational programs and services, as well as contributing to the economic growth and cultural vitality of Monmouth County.

In the 30+ years since Brookdale opened its doors, both the College and Monmouth County have grown tremendously. The 220-acre main campus in Lincroft today comprises 22 buildings totaling 731,353 square feet, with recent construction including a new 100,000 square foot classroom building, Larrison Hall, the new Center for the Visual Arts, the Bankier Library, and a Student Life Center (begun Summer 2001).

The campus also includes a 380-seat Performing Arts Center, an Advanced Technology Center with state-of-the-art television and electronic music studios, ten athletic fields, a Center for Holocaust Studies, the Children's Learning Center providing childcare to over 100 children, Brookdale public radio 90.5 The Night, and over 30 computer laboratories for students.

The Monmouth Museum is also located on the Brookdale campus.

Brookdale is an open admission college, available to anyone 18 years of age or MODC's membership list reads like a Who's Who of area business people. Members include executives from hospitals, government, banking, accounting, finance, utilities, law, education, manufacturing, services, non-profits and tourism as well as business owners and entrepreneurs.

MODC is committed to the planned economic, industrial, professional, cultural, tourism and educational growth of Monmouth and Ocean counties, and is working to create a positive business climate in both counties.

Recent Economic Developments

A $20-million renovation of the historic Congress Hall hotel in Cape May is expected to create 170 jobs when completed this spring. The 100-room hotel will feature a 160-seat dining room in addition to banquet and conference rooms.

Legislation was signed into law in January designating The Wildwoods (Wildwood, North Wildwood, Wildwood Crest and West Wildwood) as New Jersey's 29th Urban Enterprise Zone (UEZ). The UEZ designation provides tax breaks and other incentives to businesses with the goals of stimulating business investment and job creation.

Joining the Showboat hotel-casino, which broke ground during January on a $90-million, 544-room addition, Resorts Atlantic City officials have set a May 2002 start date on their plans for a $125-million, 459-room hotel tower.

Monmouth/Ocean Labor Area

Monmouth and Ocean Counties

Recent Economic Trends

The Monmouth-Ocean Labor Area continued to create nonfarm jobs at a faster-than-statewide rate during the three-month period ending January 2002. Rising to a January 2002 level of 404,800, employment in the two-county labor area grew by 2,200 or 0.5 percent from October 2001. In comparison, the state's payrolls increased by 0.1 percent during the same period.

The labor area's over-the-quarter job gain largely occurred in the services (+2,300) and government (+900) divisions. In keeping with recent trends, new services industry jobs were concentrated among providers of health, educational, social and engineering/accounting/management services. The rise in government employment mostly reflected the increased demand for public education services in the labor area's fastest growing municipalities.

The most notable employment decline since October 2001 occurred in the labor area's manufacturing division (-1,000). As in the state and nation, factory employment in the Monmouth-Ocean Labor Area has been hit hard by the current recession. Locally, most of the losses have occurred among producers of durable goods.

Since November 2000, the Monmouth-Ocean Labor Area has helped keep the entire coastal region's pace of job growth above that of the state's. During the 14-month period, November 2000 to January 2002, nonfarm wage and salary employment in the labor area advanced by a robust 8,400. The labor area's 2.1 percent growth rate compared favorably to the 0.3 percent gain posted by the state.

Like recent over-the-quarter gains, most of the labor area's new jobs since November 2000 were concentrated in services (+6,900), government (+2,300) and construction (+1,500). During this period, new jobs were scattered throughout nearly every segment of the broad-based services division. Notable were gains in amusements, health, educational, social and engineering/accounting/management services. Due to population gains, local government education was the growth area within the public sector during this period. In numerical terms, Ocean and Monmouth counties ranked second and third, respectively, in population growth during the 1990-to-2000 period. Construction employment also was up due to a steady flow of commercial development and a strong pace of residential building.

Employment levels declined in both trade (-1,800) and manufacturing (-900) since November 2000. Some of the losses in the retail sector can be attributed to a few noteworthy developments. The closing of two Stern's department stores during the summer of 2001 eliminated over 500 jobs. Also, financial problems forced the Bradlees chain to cease operations. The four area locations (Middletown, Hazlet, Manalapan, Toms River), employed a total of about 200 workers. Although trade employment declined from November 2000, retailers continued to open new establishments in the labor area. These included department stores such as Boscov's and Kohl's, an Applebee's restaurant, a Wegman's supermarket and electronics/appliance retailers Best Buy and The Wiz. In manufacturing, employment appeared to stabilize somewhat during 1999, 2000 and first half of 2001; however, it began to reflect the impact of the current recession in the fourth quarter of last year. Durable goods producers were the hardest hit.

Outlook

As they have for the past year, employment levels in the Monmouth-Ocean Labor should continue to rise during the period immediately ahead. The most promising outlook for new jobs appears to be in the retail and construction industry divisions.

In retail trade, the former Stern's department store in the Ocean County Mall won't be vacant for long due to the arrival this spring of the second Boscov's department store in the Jersey Shore market. A Boscov's opened last year in the former Stern's location at the Monmouth Mall. Each store is expected to employ about 450.

Also, tenants are expected to move into the new 235,000-sq. ft. Commons at Holmdel shopping center during the first quarter of 2002. The new shopping center is one part of a four-part development plan for the 127-acre site that also will include an office building, a nursing facility and a single-family home community for people aged 55 and older.

Another retail project on the horizon is the Seaview Square Mall in Ocean Township. New tenants will include Target, Lowe's Home Improvement and a Costco Wholesale Club. Also, a Lowe's should open this spring in Toms River.

Construction activity should benefit during the coming months thanks in part to the aforementioned new stores that are being built, residential development and school expansion. In October, the Lakewood Planning Board approved the application of Woodlake Greens to build the township's eighth adult community, adding 210 senior homes to the township's existing total of approximately 6,800. A spring 2002 groundbreaking is planned.

Progress is being made on a major mixed-use, redevelopment project for Asbury Park. Plans call for new condominiums to be built on most of the beachfront with a concentration of entertainment venues at the city's south end. The residential units would include a townhouse village and blocks of oceanfront condominiums. Recently, the developers have increased the retail component of their proposal to at least 450,000 square feet of space. The city's redevelopment project could get underway this year.

Recent Economic Developments

A Target Greatland store opened during March in the Seaview Square Mall (Ocean Twp.). The store employs about 250. Other major retailers expected to open this summer in the redeveloped shopping center include Lowe's Home Improvement and Costco Wholesale Club.

Construction also had begun on two other Lowe's Home Improvement stores in Holmdel and Ocean

A 70,000-sq. ft. Shop-Rite supermarket opened in Jackson during February. Approximately 200 full- and part-time positions were created.

Border's opened its first super bookstore in the Shore area in March. Located on Route 35 in Eatontown, the new store employs about 40 workers.

Layoffs: In February, 100 employees at TyCom Laboratories in Eatontown and, in March, 95 employees at Sovereign Bank in Toms River.

Community Medical Center employs more than 2,000 associates, has nearly 600 physicians on its medical staff, and boasts a volunteer force 1,400 strong.

We have been nationally recognized for our innovative Centers of Excellence and our efforts to improve the health status of our community. In 1992, Community Medical Center was named a distinguished Community Benefit Hospital by the Community Benefit Standards Board, and in 1994 we were awarded the NOVA Award from the American Hospital Association.

This prestigious award honors hospitals for demonstrating leadership in the transformation of the health care field with a new focus on prevention, coordination of care, and collaboration with other community organizations. Our commitment to excellence helped us secure our second "Accreditation with Commendation" in 1996 from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations--a level of excellence achieved by only five percent of surveyed hospitals nationwide.

About Monmouth Medical Center . . .
 Monmouth Medical Center is a not-for-profit, regional tertiary care teaching hospital located in Long Branch, New Jersey. The 527-bed institution provides a full spectrum of services, ranging from high-risk neonatology to geriatric care. Monmouth's service area represents a population of nearly 1 million year-round residents in Monmouth, and portions of Ocean and Middlesex counties.

Admissions total more than 19,000 annually, and emergency visits total nearly 43,000 a year. Annual outpatient clinic visits top 126,000.

Since Monmouth opened its doors in 1887 from four rented rooms above a Long Branch storefront, it has been a pioneer in providing health care services. In the 1940's, it gained international renown for an innovative polio treatment. In the 1960's, it was the first hospital in New Jersey to install a linear accelerator. And recently, it took a leadership role among hospitals in the region as the first in New Jersey to perform laparoscopic cholecystectomy – now a commonplace procedure.

Monmouth Medical Center, one of the largest community teaching hospitals in New Jersey, is an affiliate of the Saint Barnabas Health Care System. It is accredited with commendation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations and is a member of the Council of Teaching Hospitals of the Association of American Medical Colleges, a status held by only 400 of the nation's 6,000 hospitals.

MANAGED CARE

Helping You Understand Your Health Plan Options

Helping you understand your health plan options is part of Monmouth Medical Center's commitment to community health care — our commitment to you.

With 527 beds and 16 clinical departments, Monmouth Medical Center is one of New Jersey's largest community teaching hospitals, treating more than 180,000 patients annually. We remain the leader in central New Jersey in providing the best in health care and the latest in medical technology. We meet or exceed all the benchmarks for quality hospitals listed earlier in this managed care section. In fact, America's Best Hospitals, the authoritative guidebook from the editors of U.S. News & World Report, lists Monmouth Medical Center at the top of virtually every category of specialty care in Monmouth County.

At Monmouth, we are dedicated to making affordable, quality care accessible to more than 1 million residents of Monmouth, Ocean and Middlesex counties. Understanding that our patients must often access our services through managed care plans, we have:

- Created a network of board-certified primary care physicians (PCP's) serving Monmouth County. This network of PCP's affiliated with Monmouth Medical Center provides care to members of nearly all managed care plans serving residents of central New Jersey.
- Become a participating network provider in more major health plans than any other hospital in Monmouth County, including First Option Health Plan, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of New Jersey, Cigna Healthplan, HIP of New Jersey, Oxford Health Plans, PruCare and U.S. Healthcare. (For a current list, click here)

If you would like additional information about managed care, call Med-Search, Monmouth Medical Center's health information and physician referral service, at 732-870-5500. We will be happy to answer any questions you may have before it's time for you to select a health plan.

Why Your Plan Should Include Monmouth Medical Center

Monmouth Medical Center provides a full spectrum of services, earning national, state and regional recognition for many of its programs. Our model health care system includes such specialized facilities as:

- A 29-bed Regional Newborn Center, a state-designated regional perinatal care center for Monmouth and Ocean counties that includes a neonatal intensive care unit, where infants born with special needs receive intensive and comprehensive care.
- The Cancer Center at Monmouth, which is accredited by the Commission on Cancer of the American College of Surgeons as a "teaching hospital cancer center" - the group's highest designation that is held by only one-fifth of all U.S. hospitals with cancer programs. It is also a clinical research affiliate of The Cancer Institute of New Jersey, one of 12 sites chosen nationwide by the National Cancer Institute (NCI) for the development of an NCI-designated comprehensive cancer center. Monmouth also is the region's only hospital offering a high-dose rate radiation implant therapy, called brachytherapy.
- The Jacqueline M. Willentz Comprehensive Breast Center, the first multidisciplinary outpatient facility in the region designed to provide a full range of breast health-related services by a multidisciplinary

MONOC (Monmouth Ocean Hospital Service Corporation)

Mentor Engineering Inc. is pleased to announce the successful completion of their Ambulance wireless data/GPS implementation at MONOC (Monmouth Ocean Hospital Service Corporation) in Eatontown, New Jersey.

MONOC is a non-profit company owned by nine hospitals in Monmouth and Ocean Counties, New Jersey. Together, the shared services consortium acts as a health care co-operative for these acute care hospitals and the one million residents that they serve in more than 1,000 square miles along New Jersey's northern and central shore. It includes hospitals from three of New Jersey's premier integrated health care delivery networks: Meridian Health System, Robert Wood Johnson Health System and the Saint Barnabas Health System. MONOC employs over 350 staff and operates within a $16 million annual budget. Last year, the company responded to more than 30,000 requests for emergency medical services and 4,500 inter-facility advanced life support transports.

The implementation was made possible by a Technology Opportunities Program (formerly TIIAP) grant administered by the U.S. Department of Commerce, National Telecommunications and Information Administration, Office of Telecommunications and Information Applications. This state-of-the art wireless data/GPS system has allowed MONOC to significantly reduce their voice communications, to automate odometer information data

"With this system, we believe we are able to provide a better service by having our dispatch operators focus more on exceptional situations in the dispatch office, while letting the wireless data system handle much of the routine dispatching," notes Marc Goldstone.

Mothers' Center of the Jersey Shore

About Us

WE ARE MOMS SUPPORTING MOMS

Our nonprofit, non-sectarian group is a local chapter of a national organization. Our Center was established in the Spring of 1988 for mothers in Southern Monmouth County and Northern Ocean County. Functions are held throughout the year at various locations. We are interested in satisfying the needs of the women who are raising the people of tomorrow.

The role of mother has changed over time but there are some very basic principles that unite us, the love and care of our children. The early years of motherhood bring lifestyle changes that we are not necessarily prepared for. To ease these transitions we provide forums where you can gain knowledge, skills and tips from professionals and mothers who are and have been there.

We thrive on the active participation of our members. Most functions are operated through the volunteer efforts of our moms.

As parents, we all share in the challenges, joys, triumphs and that awesome sense of responsibility. Together we can ease the stress and increase the joy.

WE OFFER EVENTS THAT STIMULATE BOTH MOTHER AND CHILD.

About the Monmouth Civic Chorus

Since 1949, the Monmouth Civic Chorus has delighted concert and theater audiences with a wide variety of the choral repertoire, including classical and modern choral music, opera, operetta, and musical theater. The Chorus is acclaimed by audiences and critics alike for presenting fresh, technically polished interpretations of the great choral literature, as well as lesser-known choral treasures and new works by living composers. The Chorus has performed throughout the Monmouth/Ocean County area and Europe, and by invitation at Carnegie Hall, Paper Mill Playhouse, and the Garden State Arts Center.

For a look at some of our past performances, click here. To see some of our past reviews, click here.

Our educational outreach programs include low-cost student tickets, available through local schools, and our annual scholarship program, which since 1970 has contributed $40,000 to the higher education of vocally talented students. Voices of the Young, our education program designed to involve young people in the composition of new choral works, premiered in 1999 with our performance of student poetry set to the music of composer Tom Cipullo. In June, 2001, with funding from the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation, the Chorus will present its second commissioned choral work, a setting by Paul Siskind of poems by six Monmouth County students.

Membership in the Monmouth Civic Chorus is open to adult singers and high school seniors who meet audition requirements.

A BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE GARDEN STATE PHILHARMONIC

The primary purpose of the Garden State Philharmonic Symphony Society is to present the best symphonic music of the Masters and contemporary composers to New Jersey residents.

The orchestra is a cultural resource for the Jersey Shore and its neighbors, and performs the best in symphonic music at Toms River High School North Auditorium. Music lovers do not have to travel to the cities to enjoy live performances of fine symphonic music presented by a quality orchestra.

A group of community minded people determined that a need existed to provide quality symphonic music to the residents of the Jersey Shore. This was the basis upon which the Society was founded in 1955.

It began with a dream, some musicians, and very little money. Within a year there was an orchestra, a conductor, a regular schedule, and a bank debt guaranteed by members of the Board of Directors. The audience grew and civic support and private donations began to grow. After a number of years, initial "start-up" deficits were paid off and a season was completed "in the black".

Ocean County has experienced rapid growth over the same forty-three years, and the non-profit Garden State Philharmonic kept pace, growing in size and stature, enlarging its audience, and broadening its goals and accomplishments.

The orchestra presented its first two seasons in Lakewood before making its permanent home in Toms River in 1958. What was begun there has grown into a highly respected semi professional symphony orchestra. The orchestra has presented subscription concerts each season with such illustrious guest artists as Schlomo Mintz, Joseph Swenson, Lynn Harrell, Leonard Rose, Andre Michel Schub, Cho-Liang Linn, Carter Brey, and Colin Carr.

The orchestra for many years presented a three-concert series. For the 30th Anniversary Season, the series was expanded to four concerts. Today the Garden State Philharmonic presents a five concert series, including two afternoon concerts.

In addition, the orchestra each year presents a free Young People's Concert held in March at Toms River High School North Auditorium. The orchestra prepares by holding assemblies for Toms River students at various elementary schools. Each year there is a coloring contest (of a photocopied piece of artwork) for the students who attend the concert and the winner of this contest get to conduct one song at the end of the concert. These Young People's Concerts are programmed to be entertaining and educational and to involve children in the audience.

Since 1956 the Garden State Philharmonic has provided a wide variety of musical activities throughout Ocean County, New Jersey. During this year, we will present five subscription concerts, a holiday concert, a free Young People's concert, and a free Fourth of July Concert. These performances take place in Toms River. We plan to present at least one additional "pops" concert in a neighboring town. Each subscription concert attracts an audience of almost 1,100 listeners and the outdoor concert usually attracts an audience of 2,500 or more.

The Garden State Philharmonic also sponsors an eighty person auditioned adult chorus and three junior orchestras which provide musical activities for over one hundred and fifty children and young adults. Over the years we have provided in-school assemblies, musical lectures, and other activities for school children and adults.

Each year presents a free Young People's Concert. To prepare for this event, we present assembly programs in several elementary schools and work with the art teachers to allow the children to express their feelings about the music in various art forms. At the "big" concert, we create an art gallery in the auditorium and the children see their art work displayed while the music pours forth.

For seven years, he has conducted and served as music director of the Garden State Philharmonic. He graduated from the Manhattan School of Music and has studied with Harold Farberman and Michael Cherry and participated in master classes with Ricardo Muti, Leonard Slatkin, Edo deWaart, and Pierre Boulez.

Soloists with the Garden State Philharmonic have included Nadia Salerno-Sonnenberg, Claude Franke, Lillian Kalir, Lynn Harrel, Roman Rudnytsky, and Michael Kanen.

Garden State Philharmonic Symphony League

The Garden State Philharmonic Symphony League was formed in 1961. The all volunteer League provides vital support to the orchestra by, among other tasks, ushering at the concerts, distributing posters and brochures, and participating in subscription drive campaigns and Administrative projects.

Each year, the League kicks off the season with a luncheon and fashion show. The League sponsors activities that generate funds to help support the orchestra. The "Annual Antiques Show and Sale", the T-shirt sale, and the end of the season River Fair are an example of some of the fund raising activities. Go back to top

The Garden State Philharmonic Chorus

The Chorus began with an idea: to establish a chorus to meet the desire of residents to hear and perform choral works of the Masters. The idea became a reality, and years of planning by the Society culminated in 1984 with the formation of the Garden State Philharmonic Chorus.

The Chorus, under the direction of Devin Marimen, performs a variety of music during the subscription concert season with the Orchestra. During the December holiday season the group performs with the Symphonic Youth Orchestra for a holiday pops concert. It also joins the Orchestra each summer around 4th of July in downtown Toms River to open the annual "Summer Carousel of Music" concert series. Over the years the Chorus has expanded its audience with performances of special concerts throughout the Jersey Shore and at Carnegie Hall. In addition, an ensemble of 30 voices from the chorus, The Touring Chorus, performs at a variety of venues and functions. Go back to top

The Garden State Philharmonic Youth Orchestras

As part of its commitment to education, the Garden State Philharmonic actively sponsors three youth orchestras, to provide young musicians the opportunity to play in an orchestra and receive training to develop and enhance individual musicianship. The three programs work together as feeder programs, so students can build on their knowledge and advance up the musical ladder. The members come from various schools in Ocean and Monmouth Counties and must belong to their school music programs.

The Symphonic Youth Orchestra, formed in 1970, has approximately 70 high school aged members. This is a full orchestra, complete with wind, brass and percussion instruments. Some of our Symphonic Youth Orchestra graduates have continued their musical studies and today are accomplished professional musicians. Within this group is the Garden State Philharmonic Youth String Quartet available to perform at various functions. This group was founded in 1998.

In 1990 two more youth orchestras were founded to encourage the elementary and middle school aged musicians. The String ensemble encourages elementary aged students to seriously study string instruments and offers training and advancement into the Concert Youth Orchestra. The Concert Youth orchestra also has approximately 70 students. In 1998 it became a full orchestra with brass and woodwinds, like the Symphonic Youth Orchestra. This group made up of middle school aged students, offers training and advancement into the Symphonic Youth Orchestra.

These three orchestras perform at local senior citizen communities, appear during the December holiday season at Toms River High School North on a Sunday afternoon and hold a grand finale concert at Toms River High School North the first Sunday in June.

The Story of Albert Music Hall

It was over three decades ago, deep in the woods of Waretown, NJ, that the Pinelands Cultural Society (PCS) found its roots. Every Saturday night, in Joe and George Albert's small, secluded deer cabin in the Waretown pinelands, a handful of musicians would gather to pick and sing until the wee hours of Sunday morning.

New songs and old songs and many of their own creations would ring out to a few friends who would venture down the long sandy lane through the pines. Their cabin was known as the "Home Place" by the few lucky people who went there..

In the summer, the cabin windows were opened and wild deer wandered around the yard. In the winter, you would find a roaring fire in the old cast iron cookstove and plenty of hot coffee and homemade cake. The cabin was lighted by several gas lamps, and water was provided by an old hand pump in the kitchen. There was no electricity.

The "Home Place" soon became widely known by word-of-mouth. Newspaper and television reporters were soon covering the Saturday night events. Hundreds of people were finding their way to the cabin to listen to the music of the pine barrens. The list of musicians was also growing, and it was not unusual to find musicians entertaining outside while waiting their chance to get in.

Fiddle player George Albert died and Joe Albert, still living in the cabin, was finding it hard to handle the growing crowds with the accompanying problems. And so it was... the music stopped at the "Home Place". The visitors missed it. Joe missed it, but no one missed it more than the musicians. After a lapse of six months or so, a few pickin' pineys decided to do something about it.

They rented a big bare room at the Waretown Auction. They gathered up some of the "Home Place" musicians, charged a small fee to the public, and Saturday night's "Sounds of the Jersey Pines" once again belonged to the folks of Waretown and the surrounding areas.

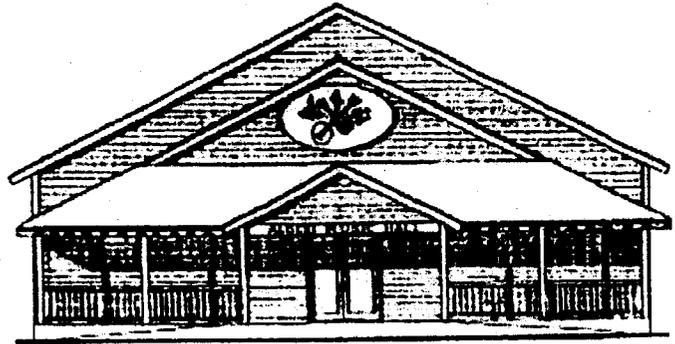

The Pinelands Cultural Society (PCS), formed around the original few from the "Home Place", was the outcome of this venture. Today there are hundreds of musicians who have been a part of the "Sounds of the Jersey Pines". The Society's goals include preservation and stimulation of interest in our pinelands musical heritage. To meet this goal, the PCs plans to build a new music hall.

The hall would be a place for aspiring musicians, young and old, to learn and perform. It would be a place where music can be given back to the people. The building would be called Albert Music Hall, after the two Albert brothers who opened their hearts and home to a handful of musicians so many years ago.

The "Sounds of The Jersey Pines" has rung out every Saturday night since November 1974. Our first temporary home was at the Waretown Auction. Although the building was destroyed by a disastrous fire in July 1992, Saturday night performances continued uninterrupted in the parking lot in front of the ruins.

By late summer PCs was able to temporarily present Albert Hall shows in the Frederic A. Priff Elementary School in Waretown, NJ.

On May 18, 1996 ground was broken for the Pinelands Cultural Society's new Albert Music Hall building at 125 Wells Mills Road, Waretown, NJ. The 6000 square foot building was dedicated and officially opened on January 5, 1997. Over 1,100 persons attended to hear a special "Ceremonial Set" followed by 44 bands playing two song sets. Joe and George Albert's dream had come true !

Drawing courtesy of Roy Everett

Welcome now to the new air-conditioned Albert Music Hall. Come join the fun of the traditional musical gatherings of the NJ Pinelands. Bring the whole family for an evening of live country, bluegrass, and folk music each Saturday night at 7:30 PM. Doors open at 6:30 PM.

Are you are a musician? Bring your instrument and swap your songs with others. There is plenty of pickin' room on the Albert Music Hall porch, in the 400 square foot Pickin' Shed, and around the grounds. The special melodies and lyrics of old time songs and more recent hits can always be heard.

Acoustic instruments such as fiddles, guitars, banjos, mandolins, dobros, upright basses, spoons, and wash tubs bass, played by musicians from the tri-state area, convey the history and special magic of the music. Performing groups change every 30

Friday, May 31

JSJBF is proud to present the legendary

Red Bank
Jazz & Blues
 Festival on the Navesink

May 31st - June 2nd
 produced by Jersey Shore Jazz & Blues Foundation

Historically, there has been a major festival in Red Bank for the past fifteen years. Initially the music festival started by Jersey Shore Jazz & Blues Foundation was called Jersey Shore Jazz & Blues Festival. On a different weekend, local restaurateurs were producing The International Food Festival. Both events were extremely successful, but in 1990 the two organizations felt that the synergy of a combined effort would be even better. The new nationally-acclaimed festival came to be known as Riverfest and attracted more than 200,000 visitors over a three-day weekend.

Once again, Jersey Shore Jazz & Blues Foundation will be producing the largest free music festival in the region called Red Bank Jazz & Blues Festival on the Navesink; JSJBF is unable to use the Riverfest name because it is owned by The Eastern Monmouth Chamber of Commerce which is not participating in this event.

NEW! Complete RBJ&B Festival LINEUP is now posted. Also we honor our fair city with the lyrics for The Red Bank Song written by Art Steinman and sung annually to open the festival by his band ReV on Friday evening. You, too, can NEW! Get Hip with The Red Bank Song. NEW!

Headliners Appearing

Rod Piazza (right) & The Mighty Flyers, who were to perform at Riverfest 2001 but, unfortunately, were rained out, will be brought back for a second chance with the New Jersey weather. Rod is one of the hottest blues festival acts in the country right now so you don't want to miss this performance. Not ones to give up because of the weather, The Mighty Flyers performed their set that evening for an intimate crowd of mostly JSJBF members at The Oakland House in Red Bank where JSJBF monthly meetings are usually held. Rod was gracious enough to allow several local harp players to sit in with the band and took a personal interest in their harp careers. Pictured at left are the gifted and fast-moving boogie-woogie

PROGRAM

Lakewood, NJ: The Lakewood BlueClaws and Jersey Central Power and Light, a FirstEnergy Company, are once again proud to offer Ocean and Monmouth County school children the chance to earn a ticket to a game this season through hard work and achievement. The Most Improved Student program, now in its second year, allows one student from each class in participating schools a ticket and a chance to be recognized at BlueClaws home game on one of three dates.

Individual teachers in grades K-through-6 will create their own guidelines for selecting students. The process may be based upon academic improvement, social or behavioral improvement, or any combination of these or other factors.

Each child selected as a Most Improved Student will receive one reserved ticket for a game along with a hot dog, chips, soda and voucher for the speed-pitch machine. The student also will have the opportunity to be recognized on the field in a pre-game ceremony.

"We're happy to bring back this program," said BlueClaws General Manager Geoff Berman. "We're very excited about FirstEnergy's continued support and it shows how many community organizations are interested in education."

"As a parent of two children, I have long had a special place in my heart for our company's support of student achievement activities," said Jersey Central Power & Light Region President Dan Lynch. "I'm proud that FirstEnergy Corp. shares my interest and backs up that interest with its many commitments--such as this."

Teachers are required to submit nominations no later than Friday, March 29th. Game dates are April 22nd, 23rd and 24th and all three games begin at 6:35 pm. Last year, more than 300 area classrooms participated in the program. Seating is limited at FirstEnergy Park and these dates are expected to fill up quickly as a result of this partnership with the schools.

Lakewood, NJ) The Lakewood BlueClaws and First Union Bank have teamed up for a second straight year in a charitable community initiative called the "Educational Winners Circle." The two companies established the _____ at the beginning of last season to help create educational opportunities for children in Monmouth and Ocean Counties.

Through the _____, each company donates five cents for every BlueClaws ticket sold during the season. With more than 480,000 fans passing through the gates at FirstEnergy Park last season, the first year _____ raised more than $48,000.

Educational Winners Circle grants are awarded to non-profit agencies in Ocean and Monmouth Counties that provide enhanced educational opportunities for underserved youth. One organization can receive a $25,000 main grant, while the remaining dollars are split between two or more area nonprofits. Last year, the primary grant was awarded to Omega 13 of Lakewood and the remaining funds were split between the United Way of Ocean County, America's Promise Initiative, and the Smart and Healthy Network.

The two companies are well positioned to provide to these grass-roots agencies the financial education and literacy training that many families need, said First Union area president Susanna Sweeney. "We're proud to continue this successful _____ in Monmouth and Ocean Counties."

The Educational Winners Circle is modeled after a _____ between First Union and the Trenton Thunder. In the BlueClaws President Greg Finley is part of the ownership group. The _____ in Trenton is in its ninth season and has raised nearly $400,000.

"We are excited and thrilled to again have First Union as a partner in this very important _____," said Finley. "It has already proven to be a successful partnership in Ocean and Monmouth Counties and we continue to do that way."

Interested organizations can request an application by calling the BlueClaws Front Office at 732-901-7000 or visit our community pages. Applications are due June 1st.

(Lakewood, NJ) The Lakewood BlueClaws and ten area Chambers of Commerce are holding a Business to Consumer Expo at FirstEnergy Park on Tuesday May 14th. While the event is designed to promote business in Ocean and Monmouth Counties, it also will be a fundraiser. The Expo, which runs from 5-8 p.m., is open to the public and the $5 admission for each consumer will be donated to the Food Bank of Monmouth and Ocean Counties.

The 10 Chambers of Commerce that will participate in the Expo are Lakewood, Brick, Howell, Jackson, Point Pleasant, Point Pleasant Beach, Lacey, Southern Monmouth, Tom's River Ocean County, and Western Monmouth.

"We're happy to host such an important event for area businesses and consumers," said BlueClaws General Manager Geoff Brown. "It's a great way to work with the local business community to create opportunities for them, and also help an important cause."

"Our local business community has always been very supportive of the Food Bank's work to help those who are less fortunate," said Susan Kelly, Executive Director of the Food Bank. "The funds raised by this event will help us to bring food to our neighbors in need at food pantries, soup kitchens, and other programs throughout Monmouth and Ocean Counties."

Each chamber will have 15 tables available to their members. Companies that belong to those chambers and are interested are asked to contact their chamber about availability.

Interested consumers or business members that do not have a table can purchase tickets at the door on May 14th.

The History and Background of the JSVBA

The Jersey Shore Volleyball Association was conceived, created, and formed by Michael Borga, Walter Watson, and Doug Emich during a conversation at a local bar (Time Out Tavern in South Belmar, NJ). There is no doubt that the beverages imbibed had much to do with Mr. Borga's and Mr. Emich's commitment to participate. The determining factor and driving inspiration in our decision to form the JSVBA was the almost complete lack of events at the Jersey Shore in 1985.

An overriding principle in the formation of the JSVBA is a belief that no matter how good (or bad) a player you are we would try to offer a skill level that would allow you to be competitive. This principle became the "Mission" of the JSVBA. We vowed to keep our events open to all comers, unlike many other tournaments, where the main deciding factor in whether you could participate came down to who you knew or how good you were!

1986 Belmar Youth Center Benefit

- The Jersey Shore Volleyball Association is formed and we conduct our first tournament at the 4th Ave. beach in Belmar, NJ. More than 300 players participate.

FOVA's stated purpose is to promote the sport of Outdoor Volleyball and the interests of the member regions.

Our Carousel

The Fantasy Island Amusement Park Carousel

Fantasy Island Amusement Park proudly presents to you, our patrons, a Classic, Turn-of-the-Century Carousel, custom designed for Fantasy Island by Chance Rides, Inc. of Wichita, Kansas. Featuring the famous Bradley & Kaye molds of horses that date back to the early 1900's. We hand picked the outside row of animals to be representative of the various styles of the master carvers of a bygone age.

The topmost horse and gold balls were added by Fantasy Island to bring back the authentic look of the Victorian carousel. These features are rarely seen today.

In 1974 Marriott's Great American Theme Parks wanted to present to the public an authentic carousel reminiscent of an era that had all but disappeared. Leb Brown approached David E. Bradley with this awesome task. Fortunately for all of us today, 'Dave' Bradley's love of the carousel's history caused him to assemble and duplicate exactly the beautiful workmanship that had been so long ignored. Faithfully recreated in fiberglass, the carousel horses presented to the public proved to be immensely popular and inspired many people to want to know more about this neglected piece of Americana. In 1986 Chance Rides, Inc. acquired these precious molds.

The Bradley & Kaye horses have the finest pedigree. They date back to the great era of carousel carvers. Craftsmen like Marcus Illions, Charles Loeff, Charles Carmel and Gustav Dentzel. The molds for the Bradley & Kaye figures were taken directly from hand-carved, turn-of-the-century, American carousel figures. Each figure requires many hours of hand finishing and delicate paint work before it is ready to take its place in the ranks of this cherished American tradition.

The carousel, over 80 years old, is one of the vintage machines of the golden era. A museum piece in itself, it still whirls on the Seaside Heights, NJ boardwalk to bring delight to young and old alike.

Although much of the carousel dates to 1910, some of the animals on board were carved in the 1890's. The 58 animals, 36 of which move up and down, were hand-carved by master craftsman William Dentzel (Philadelphia) and Charles Loeff (Coney Island). In addition, there are a number of figures carved by Charles Carmel and Marcus Illions. Since more than one carver created the ride as it now exists, it is called a "mixed machine".

The music is provided by the only continuously operating Wurlitzer Military Band Organ in the state of New Jersey. The Wurlitzer Style 146A organ features 105 wooden pipes, has 51 keys and plays from a style 150 band organ roll. A 16 note bell register has been added. In addition to the pipework, the organ also includes a bass drum, snare drum and cymbal. The organ has a duplex tracker system (much like a player piano) which operates a system of valves and small pneumatics to open pallets to allow air pressure to play the pipework. The only electrical part of the organ is the motor to turn the crankshaft. Usually, a music roll includes 10 songs and the duplex (double tracker) system permits the operation of two music rolls (one plays while the other rewinds). This allows the organ to play 20 different songs before a song is repeated.

This spectacular carousel features 2016 light bulbs, 18 paintings (15 of which are original) and elaborate neo-classical castings on the outer rim (floral patterns, lyres and winged lions). In addition to its colorful appearance, it also has a colorful past. It was initially located in Burlington Island Beach Park in Burlington, NJ. It was purchased in 1928 after being partially damaged in a fire at its previous home and erected at its current site in 1932. Since then, its horses have been used as examples of carousel art to produce a number of limited edition miniature horses for collectors. Several marriage ceremonies have taken place on the carousel including one in the actual "carnival" tradition, where, after the vows are taken, the crew pushed the carousel (manually) forward one revolution. Fund raisers, birthday parties, special celebrations, and numerous other events have been held on it.

ABOUT COAST STAR NEWSPAPERS

Coast Star Newspapers publishes two weekly paid newspapers -- The Coast Star, published every Thursday, and The Ocean Star, published each Friday. Both papers are available by mailed subscription and are also sold on the newsstand for 50¢ per copy.

The history of The Coast Star is one of consistency. The newspaper has been located at its current location, 13 Broad Street, Manasquan, since 1909, and has served the southern Monmouth County area since 1877. The paper currently sells more than 13,000 copies each week, which translates into 32,500 readers every week.

The Ocean Star, located at 421 River Ave., Point Pleasant Beach, was launched in 1998 and serves the northern Ocean County area. Following its fourth year of operation, the paper boasts a paid circulation in excess of 5,300.

HISTORY

Hoskins

Tracy M. Hoskins

Only three families have had control of The Coast Star since the turn of the century. According to a "History of Manasquan" published in 1950 in celebration of Manasquan's Diamond Jubilee, the predecessor of The Coast Star began on June 14, 1877 as The Seaside, published tri-weekly by Edward Stultz. In 1883, the name was changed to The Manasquan Seaside. The paper continued under this name for 10 years. Mr. Wilmer E. Hoskins worked at the paper for two years before taking a position of editor and manager of the Spring Lake Mirror. Mr. Stultz later became the editor of The Spring Lake Gazette and Mr. Hoskins owned and published The Coast Democrat. In 1909, he turned the paper over to his son, Tracy M. Hoskins.

Global Banking and Bill Payment

FAFCU's Global Banking gives members the convenience of home banking and bill payment services from the comfort of their home or office computer. Global banking is offered free of charge to members that have any checking account with FAFCU. The conveniences offered through Global Banking are listed below.

- Through Account Access, members can access their deposit and loan accounts to view account balances, view transaction history and transfer funds between accounts.

Members can also email the credit union, obtain credit card information (on credit union credit cards only), and utilize the Help service, which provides additional information on the Global Access Service.

Bill Payment is a service that pays bills electronically which allows members better control of their finances and prevents late payments. This service allows members to schedule recurring payments and provides verification of past payments. Bill Payment is free for the first year. After the first year members are charged a monthly fee of $3.99 to utilize this service. This fee is waived if a member has direct deposit, e-checking, or an aggregate balance of $10,000 or more on deposit.

Traditional and Gold Mastercard

FAFCU offers members financial freedom via the Traditional and Gold MasterCard credit card. The Gold card has no annual fee and both cards offer a low annual percentage rate (as low as 9.9% fixed APR). Both cards offer a 25-day grace period and no interest is charged if the balance is paid within the billing cycle. Cash availability through the credit line can be accessed at any STAR ATM. Also, retail protection services are available.

Direct Deposit/Payroll Deduction

FAFCU offers direct deposit at no charge. Funds become available immediately even if one can't visit a branch. Members can immediately withdraw cash via check, ATM or Visa Debit Card. Also, direct deposited funds start to earn dividends faster every payday.

This check card can also be used at ATM locations for cash. The Visa Check Card is available free of charge to members who utilize direct deposit, have e-checking, or maintain an aggregate balance of $10,000. Otherwise, a nominal monthly fee of $2.00 is applied and allows for unlimited transactions.

This account does not earn interest but it also has no minimum balance requirement, free Global Banking, no monthly service charge, and no per check charges. The first 50 checks are free.

Interest Checking offers members the opportunity to earn interest on their account balance. Monthly service charges are waived if the minimum daily balance is $500 or more. Otherwise, monthly service charges are only $5.00 (still considerably lower than what most banks charge). E-Checking is targeted towards members who plan to do most of their banking online, by ATM, or through Tellerphone Access. Otherwise, a minimal $5.00 monthly fee is assessed.

Prestige Checking offers members the opportunity to earn higher dividends in exchange for an agreement to maintain a higher minimum daily balance. The minimum daily balance requirement is $1,000, which earns a competitive dividend rate. Balances over $1,000 are swept into an overnight investment account offering even higher dividend rates. Members earn more by keeping higher balances. This checking account is free if either a $1,000 minimum daily balance is maintained or, if a member has an aggregate balance of $75,000 or more in all loan and deposit accounts. Members also receive free Global Banking, all checks are free, and no per check charges.

Savings Accounts

An initial deposit of just $5.00 opens a savings account at FAFCU. There is no minimum balance requirement but balances over $100 earn dividends. Saver's Club accounts are designated for specific expenditures such as tax payments, vacations, the holidays, or a mortgage down payment. These savings plans are flexible-the member chooses the maturity month and there are several ways to make deposits. At maturity, the funds are automatically transferred to the member's checking account. The dividend rate accrues daily.

Youngsters can learn the value of saving too. Cool Kids is a savings account for children between the ages of five and twelve. Terrific Teens targets youth between the ages of 13 and 18. ### Money Market Accounts

FAFCU's three customized money market accounts offer a higher rate of dividend than the traditional savings accounts. The Standard Money Market Account requires a minimum balance of $1,000. The funds are liquid and three withdrawals per month are allowed. The Premier Money Market Account requires a $10,000 minimum balance, which, in turn, earns even higher dividends and provides a Visa Check Card, free basic check printing, and the annual fee on the Traditional MasterCard is waived. The Maximizer Money Market Account requires a $15,000 minimum balance and earns higher rates as the balance increases. This account earns the highest dividends of all the money market and savings accounts. Funds are liquid and transfers and checks are limited to three per month.

Certificates

FAFCU's certificates offer members a stable investment with a fixed rate at the time of purchase. Terms can be as short as one month up to a maximum of five years. A minimum deposit of just $500 can open an account. Dividends are compounded and paid monthly and members can choose for dividends to be paid into either savings, checking, or money market accounts, or back into the certificate. Certificates can also be pledged against a loan for a reduced interest rate. Children can open a certificate with only $100.

IRA Accounts

FAFCU provides Traditional, Roth, and Education IRAs. The Traditional IRA allows members to save for retirement using pre-tax dollars. Contributions are tax deductible and earnings growth is tax deferred until funds are withdrawn. The Roth IRA allows for retirement savings using after-tax dollars. Earnings on this account are tax free when certain conditions are met. Withdrawals can be made at anytime and are tax and penalty free. The Coverdell Educational Savings Account (previously known as the Education IRA) provides a means to save for children or grandchildren's higher education. Withdrawals for qualified higher education expenses are tax free and the funds can be transferred from one child's account to another's account that is within the family with no penalties or fees.

Members considering an IRA can either obtain an IRA Certificate, which is geared towards people who plan to deposit the maximum contribution in one lump sum, or open an IRA Club Account, which is for members who plan to make several smaller contributions over time. Members can make payroll deductions into this account or make planned contributions depending on their preference.

Loan Products

FAFCU's offers a wide range of lending services with typically lower loan rates than larger banks or fringe banks. The credit union has a lending program for just about any need. Auto Financing is available on new cars, used cars, and recreational vehicles. Members can borrow up to 100% of the purchase price, up to book value and terms extend as far as 72 months. New vehicle rates begin at 4.9% APR and used vehicle rates begin as low as 5.15% APR. Pre-approvals given in 24 hours or less. The auto draft program is a blank check issued by the credit union for the pre-approved amount. This gives members an edge when negotiating the vehicle price because it is like having cash on hand. Other services include the Motor Vehicle Certification Program which provides free information and pre-negotiated vehicle prices on new and used vehicles.

Consumer Loans offer members who don't own a home the money needed to finance large purchases such as furniture, paying for a wedding, vacation, etc. Loans can be obtained in several different ways. A Personal Line of Credit is an unsecured loan with a revolving line of credit. The APR applies only to the amount of funds used. This line of credit can also be used as overdraft protection on a member's checking account. Approval typically takes less than 24 hours. Secured Loans use a member's savings account or certificate of deposit as collateral. Personal Loans involve a specific amount loaned for a specific period of time. Members pay a fixed monthly payment based on fixed APR rates that can be as low as 11%. Terms are available up to 72 months. Approval is given within 24 hours or less.

Mortgage Loans are also available through FAFCU and again, they are tailored to meet the diverse needs of the credit union's membership. Fixed Rate Mortgages with 10, 15, 20, or 30 year terms are the most popular mortgage loans. Rates are very competitive and members can borrow with no money down. Members can also pay up to three points to lower the interest rate. The cost to apply is only $250 and there is no origination fee. Adjustable Rate Mortgages offer a lower monthly principle and interest rate at the start of the loan that increases as the market adjusts. A one year adjustable rate mortgage with zero points currently has a 4.75% APR and can increase up to a maximum of six points for the life of the loan. A three year adjustable rate mortgage with zero points is at 5.25% APR and the same conditions apply. Again, there is no origination fee and the cost to apply is only $250. The 3% Down Mortgage is for members who have some savings for a down payment but not the traditional 20%. FAFCU will finance 97% of the purchase price to qualified buyers. The Pledge Asset Option allows members the opportunity to pledge a certificate of deposit as a down payment. Bridge Loans are available for members who are buying a home but have not yet sold their current home and need funds until the current house is sold.

FAFCU offers several Home Equity Programs that can be used for a number of reasons. The most common are: to consolidate debt; refinance a current mortgage; for home improvements; to pay for higher education; to purchase a vehicle; or to refurbish/redecorate a home. Many times the interest paid on these loans is tax deductible.

- Equity Choice is a fixed rate home equity loan. Terms of five, seven, ten, and fifteen years are available. FAFCU will finance up to 80% of the home's appraised value less the balance of the first mortgage and rates are as low as 6.5%.
- Equity Max is a fixed rate home equity loan that allows financing up to 100% of the appraised value of the home less the balance of the first mortgage. Rates begin as low as 8.00% and terms are five, seven, or ten years.
- The Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC) offers a rate of prime plus 0% depending on the member's equity in their home. This option allows the member the flexibility to take out only what is needed when it is needed. There is no need to reapply-just access the line of credit on an as needed basis. Other benefits include no appraisal fees, no closing costs, fast approval and closing, and the interest paid may be tax deductible.

Special Products and Services

FAFCU offers a wide variety of additional products and services, including the following:

- Check Architect-an online check ordering/reordering service

Plans to Serve Underserved/Low-Income Residents of the Shore Region

According to the NCUA's website "Serving the Underserved," the Shore Region contains 56 census tracts that are individually qualified as underserved by the CDFI Fund Program. These underserved areas have a total population of 216,948 (1990 US Census figures). In order to meet the criteria of "underserved" and area must have median family incomes below the NCUA's threshold for underserved designation, high levels of poverty and/or high unemployment rates.

(Map and demographic information for underserved census tracts are located at the end of this section.)

Additionally, The CACI County Demographic Report for 1998 shows 11% of the households in the Shore Region earning less than $15,000 per year and another 10% of households earning between $15,000 and $25,000. It should also be noted that 50% of the households earn less than $50,000 annually.

The CDFI website lists other statistics on the underserved areas in Monmouth and Ocean counties that are worth mentioning. These figures are based on the 1990 U.S. Census information but still provide a relevant picture of the community today. In 1990, Ocean County's underserved population totaled 131,437, which accounts for 30% of the county's total population of 433,203. Of that population, almost 10% of the households are single family headed households, and 34% do not have a high school diploma. The median family income is $31,125, which is about 78% of Ocean County's median family income of 39,797. Over 80% of families are homeowners but, more than 32% of households paid more than a third of their income towards housing costs.

In Monmouth County, the total underserved population in 1990 was 85,511, or 15% of the total population of 553,124. However, one in five of the households (over 20%) were a single family headed household. Approximately 30% of the underserved residents did not have a high school diploma and only 40% of the households own their home. Over 40% of the residents spend more than a third of their income for housing

Averages for the Monmouth-Ocean PMSA's underserved residents are as follows:

- The average median household income in the underserved community is $32,397, which is 69% of the PMSA's average of $46,615.
- One in five residents of the Monmouth-Ocean PMSA is classified as underserved.
- One third of the underserved residents have not attained a high school diploma.

- An average of 61% of underserved households own their own home compared to a 77% homeownership rate for the Monmouth-Ocean PMSA.
- Single family headed households account for 16% of the underserved area's total households. This percentage is greater than the PMSA's, the state's or the nation's.

When income is viewed in light of the cost of living in New Jersey, it is clear that, since half of the households in the Shore Region make less than $50,000 annually, residents are struggling to make ends meet. Many residents, not just the underserved, need the benefits derived from low interest loans, free checking, and the many low-cost services offered at FAFCU.

Just by virtue of its current field of membership, FAFCU already serves many of the Shore Region's underserved and low-income residents. FAFCU currently has a wide variety of products and services that are well suited for low-income and/or underserved members, including the following:

- FAFCU offers a variety of loans, including home mortgage, home equity, home improvement, personal and vehicle loans, to meet members' individual loan needs. FAFCU is able to lend smaller amounts at competitive rates. Current interest rates are competitive with those of banks and much better than those offered by local pawn shops and check cashing outlets.
- FAFCU's fee-free checking will help less affluent area residents avoid costly fees charged by other financial institutions. Also, no minimum balance is required and just $5 opens a savings account.
- FAFCU offers a Motor Vehicle Certification Program, which is a free service to assist members in the purchase of a vehicle. The buyer speaks directly with a consumer advisor, who has previous dealership experience in either management or sales, to get a pre-negotiated price on the vehicle of their choice. The advisor also educates the buyer on what to expect throughout the car-buying process. Follow-up on the transaction is provided to certify that the buyer received the price that they are entitled to. Members can ask questions anytime at no charge.
- FAFCU is a member of the Monmouth-Ocean Development Council, a network of business, educational, financial, non-profit, and community organizations dedicated to the betterment of the Shore Region.
- FAFCU's Cool Kids Club Newsletter and Terrific Teens Newsletter educate youth about the benefits of saving and budgeting money.

- FAFCU makes every effort to communicate clearly and to deal fairly with their members. In order to ensure that customer complaints are resolved, the credit union's Board of Directors has appointed a Supervisory Committee that has several functions. The primary function is to ensure that the credit union is accurately and fairly presented in the financial statements and that the management and procedures are sufficient to safeguard member's assets. They also investigate member complaints that cannot be resolved through regular channels.

National

Given the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001 against the U.S., there are unforeseen economic implications that are just beginning to be revealed and understood. The economy's deterioration is now real, and has been exaggerated by these attacks, the threat of future attacks, and the ongoing war on terrorism. The current U.S. economy is now in a technical recession. The much-awaited and predicted second-half recovery for 2001 did not materialize before the September 11 tragedy, and all hope of any recovery this year has been lost. Consumer psychology is now fragile, and it is driving the marketplace. But a year after terrorists attacked the World Trade Center and the Pentagon— and by extension, the economy — the impact has not proven to be nearly as deep or as lasting as was feared. The economic consequences of September 11 still linger, certainly. But the toll has proved disparate, inflicting the heaviest damage on sectors such as travel and tourism while leaving others unscathed. And it turns out events before and after have played a far larger role in shaping the economy than the attacks.

Sizing up the impact of the attacks is complicated because the economy was already in a recession before last September. In the months since, it has been buffeted by other crises, including the collapse of Enron and a host of other corporate scandals, severe problems in the telecommunications industry, and the drop-off in the stock market.

According to Reuters, August 29, 2002, the pace of U.S. economic growth slowed sharply in the second quarter, the government confirmed, but businesses showed signs of a renewed willingness to invest and improved bottom lines.

Gross domestic product, the broadest measure of goods and services produced in the United States, grew at a 1.1% annual rate, down from a 5.0% rate for the first quarter 2002, the Commerce Department said. It was the department's second estimate for the spring quarter, and was the same as the initial estimate, which it made in July.

However, there were signs that American businesses were managing to ride out the slowdown. After-tax corporate profits were up for a second consecutive quarter, rising 1.7% after a 2.0% gain in the first three months of 2002. And while overall business investment was revised downward, falling at a 2.6% rate, spending on new equipment and software was revised upward to a 3.1% pace, the first gain since the third quarter of 2000.

In a positive sign for the lackluster recovery from last year's recession, businesses built up inventories for the first time since the fourth quarter of 2000. Inventories grew at a $7.3 billion annual rate, revised upward from the previous estimate of a $1 billion pace and contributing strongly to the quarter's overall growth rate.

Groundbreaking on new U.S. housing projects slumped 2.7% from the previous month to an annual rate of 1.649 million homes in July, the government said. The seasonally adjusted fall, steeper than Wall Street economists' forecasts for a drop of 0.5%, followed a matching 2.7% decline in June. Economists said the level of housing construction remained relatively high despite the retreat over the past two months.

Total new claims for U.S. jobless benefits unexpectedly rose for the third consecutive week, the government reported August 29, 2002, fanning worries about the health of the American labor market. Initial applications for state unemployment insurance benefits, seen as a rough guide to the employment market and pace of layoffs, rose above the key 400,000 mark for the first time since early July 2002, climbing by 8,000 claims to 403,000 in the week ending August 24. The rise pushed the four-week moving average to a seven-week high and defied Wall Street expectations for a fall to 387,000 from the 389,000 originally reported for the prior week. Economists view the 400,000 mark as a sign of a soft labor market. The U.S. unemployment rate could rise from the current 5.9% to 6.5% during the autumn, predicted some economists.

Two closely-watched indicators of U.S. economic health headed in opposite directions August 27, 2002, confusing investors looking for direction. The U.S. Commerce Department issued a bullish report on durable goods orders. It said orders for durable goods – big-ticket items designed to last at least three years – jumped by 8.7 per cent in July. That was the largest increase in nine months. The gain was much higher than what economists were expecting. And some were quick to declare an end to talk of the "double dip" theory – the possibility that the U.S. economy might be heading back into recession. But after the durable goods data came out, the Conference Board issued its August U.S. consumer confidence index the same day.

Consumer confidence in the US has fallen sharply, raising new worries about the strength of any economic recovery. In August 2002, consumer confidence fell for the second month in a row to stand at its lowest level since November 2001, according to a private research group. The New York-based Conference Board said its index of consumer attitudes fell from 97.4 in July to 93.5 in August.

The US Federal Reserve won extra room to cut interest rates, with the latest data showing tame inflation, a softening housing market and shaky consumer confidence. "We probably need to see some sign of strengthening in the economy for the Fed not to ease," Merrill Lynch senior economist Stan Shipley said on August 16, 2002.

Federal Reserve policymakers decided against cutting interest rates from a 40-year low at their last meeting August 13, 2002, but they warned of the threat of a deterioration in the economy ahead. They are scheduled to meet again September 24, 2002. Inflation must be under control if Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan and his colleagues are to consider lowering interest rates to boost economic activity. US consumer prices crept up just 0.1% in July, 2002 and were up 1.5% compared with July, 2001 figures, the Labor Department said. Core prices, which exclude volatile food and energy costs, rose 0.2% in July and were up 2.2% from the same month a year earlier, the Labor Department said Friday.

Political/Regulations

- Reg-Flex is the first major regulatory relief effort undertaken by NCUA in many years. This proposed regulation would allow healthy credit unions to earn regulatory relief based on well-established criteria.
- Incidental Powers is a proposed change to Section 721 on insurance sales and group purchasing activities. This could open the door to credit unions adding additional services.
- Financial Privacy rules as a result of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley financial modernization law requires credit unions to make proper disclosures before they can share information with their business partners.

Competitors

- Non-traditional competitors, such as brokerage houses and insurance companies, are increasingly making movements to enter various services in the financial service environment.
- Community banks are becoming more active and service oriented-acting more like credit unions.
- Direct competition comes from banks, specifically First Union, Sovereign, Fleet, PNC and Commerce.

Internal Assessment

Local / Financial:

- Growth in income is primarily due to growth in loans and fees. Continuing efforts to increase the rate of controlled loan growth must be maintained.
- Continuing efforts to create efficiencies in operating expenses is essential to the continued long-term profitability.
- A growing (positive) capital to asset ratio is being experienced due to controlled asset growth, and an increase in earnings bringing the Return on Asset ratio consistently above 1%.

Political/Regulations:

- The general regulatory climate has shifted to a less restrictive environment.
- On Capitol Hill, "business as usual," has slowed considerably. Since September 11, the legislative focus has been almost exclusively on anti-terrorist issues.
- The Federal Government is still debating the issue of taxation, however, it does not appear as an immediate threat.
- Some concern by regulators and trade groups has been expressed regarding an increasing move from the federal charter by federally chartered credit unions. However, little agreement has been reached as to the extent of the move or actions required.

Competitors:

- Credit Union consolidation is continuing in the US.
- Non-bank financial service providers are on the increase.
- Consolidation of the banking industry is continuing.
- Geographic markets are expanding with many credit unions filling the local community financial institution role vacated by the bank and thrift industries.
- Industry changes - Mergers of colossal proportion, experimentation with technology and accelerating convergence between the banking, brokerage and insurance industries.
- Credit unions are competing against one another - credit unions today provide diversified financial services to a wide array of customers. The "common bond" of credit union members has been stretched and credit unions of today consist of hundreds of unrelated groups.

Consumer Needs:

The following represent consumer needs as they relate to our industry and in many cases, on a more global scale.

- Fiduciary (an ability to trust and build confidence)
- Convenience (ATM placement, branch location).
- Efficiency (time in which product / services can be delivered).
- Cost (value driven in a low consumer confident economy).
- Internet accessibility (availability of information / direct business link / alternative marketplace).
- Variety (expanded product / service mix).
- Customer service (expedited access / knowledgeable / pleasant experience).

Consumer Trends:

- The 'Go Go' era of Internet Driven Euphoria has declined.
  - Consumers are more cautious in their investment selections.
  - Choosing safer investments such as CDs and Money Markets.
- Low 2001 real estate rates caused consumers to refinance their Mortgages. Rates will remain low but refinancing will likely drop off as most consumers who could have refinanced have already done so.
- Many consumers live paycheck-to-paycheck, regardless of income. They are over spenders that crave instant gratification.
- The Attack on America has changed consumer thinking:
  - Many consumers believe a recession is inevitable.
  - Patriotism is renewed.
  - A renewed sense of "carpe diem" will lead consumers to improve the balance of work and life to spend more time with family.
  - Consumers want safety and security. May lead to more spending in areas such as cell phones.
  - Baby Boomers: decreased hopes of retiring early after many good years of returns.
  - Older employees may delay Full-Time retirement.
  - Consumers will continue to spend, but will seek value.
  - Consumers will continue to travel, but will seek more driving vacations.

Membership Survey:

- The 2002 Member Satisfaction Survey was mailed to 3,417 members. Five hundred forty-seven members responded, which is a response rate of 16%. There is a greater than 95% confidence level that this survey is statistically sound.

Fringe Banking and Predatory Lending

A growing concern among government and community leaders in New Jersey concerns the increasing dependence of many residents on "fringe banks" to meet their basic banking needs. Since many of these residents cannot afford the high fees or, simply don't meet the account requirements of most large banks, they are forced to use other alternatives such as pawn shops and check cashing outlets.

A recent article in The Star Ledger titled "Poverty: Not poor by designation, but feeling the pinch every day" addresses the lifestyle of many New Jerseyans who do not meet the census definition of poverty but still feel the desperation of trying to make ends meet. According to the 2000 U.S. Census, New Jersey is the most affluent state in the nation, however, this is based upon income only and does not factor in the cost of living compared with other areas of the nation. For example, if a family's median income is $26,000 a year it is well above the poverty line more and more of this income goes towards housing costs and basic necessities leaving many residents with little or no savings. Many live paycheck to paycheck. These residents need quick access to cash and, through the use of check cashing outlets or pawn shops, are able to handle many of their transactions in one location without having to maintain a balance in a checking or savings account. This segment of the population is willing to pay the higher fees in exchange for fewer restrictions and the ability to get cash quickly.

According to the yellow pages, there are 22 check cashing outlets and seven pawn shops in the Monmouth-Ocean PMSA. One of the larger pawn shop outlets, Century Pawn Brokers, provides the following services for its customers, Money Gram worldwide money transfer, money orders ($.59 cents each), utility bill payments, prepaid phone cards, immediate cash loans, and check cashing. A large check cashing franchise, United Check Cashing, provides several services for its customers as well. These include payroll, social security, and government check cashing, money orders ($.29 cents each), tax return preparation, a money mover card (designed to send funds to a regular recipient), the cash card (a reloadable debit card that can be used by ATMs all over the world), home phone reconnection (a prepaid phone service through dPi Teleconnect), authorized bill payment (to pay electric, gas, phone, and cable bills), and money wire service through Western Union. All of these services are available on a fee-per-use basis.

Poverty: Not poor by designation, but feeling the pinch every day

BY SUSAN K. LIVIO
 STAR-LEDGER STAFF

Many poor people found jobs in the '90s, and the most educated and skilled workers found wealth, making New Jersey the most affluent state in the nation with the fourth-lowest poverty rate, according to the 2000 census.

Ranking poverty across state lines can be a tricky exercise when you square the U.S. Census Bureau's definition of poverty with the cost of living in the Garden State.

The federal government says a family of four is living below the poverty line if it earns less than $17,671. The standard is the same for the family in New Jersey as it is for the family in Mississippi.

The vital difference is that New Jersey residents paid the third-highest median rent ($763) and the fourth-highest median home price ($171,988).

"The poverty standard is not adjusted for the cost of living," said James Hughes, dean of the Edward J. Bloustein School of Planning and Public Policy at Rutgers University. "We have the highest median income and one of the wealthiest states, so more people are above the poverty level. But they still have as difficult time making ends meet."

Even within its own borders, New Jersey's income disparities are so vast that 21 percent of all households earn $100,000 or more, while one in 10 children lives in poverty.

And although women in New Jersey earn the highest median income in the nation ($25,119), the single-mother-run household here is five times more likely than a married-couple family to have her school-age children qualify for free or reduced-price lunches, census figures said.

"In the '90s, we were measuring a period of rising affluence and an economy that had been expanding for eight years. But not everybody participated in the bounty," Hughes said.

rk during the last decade. Largely propelled by the welfare reform aw in 1997 that set five-year time limits and work requirements, the welfare rolls dropped by 66 percent from 1990 to 2000.

As a $13-an-hour customer-service representative, she is not poor according to the federal government. But Williams said she and her two children rely on the Food Action Network in Englewood for their groceries. They must live with her sister because she can't afford her own apartment. She regrets her oldest daughter chose to join the Army to be able to afford college tuition.

Williams is glad to be off welfare, but she worries about the future. "I'm 40, and I don't think I am ever going to get a place to live," Williams said. "Is there a type of government-funded program for me? Where can I go?"

Evelyn and Kevin Silas earn about $26,000 a year – well above the poverty line – but because they live in affluent Bergen County, they and their two children share a one-bedroom apartment. They pay $800 a month. "Anything cheaper would have roaches and rats," Evelyn Silas said.

Before her husband broke his ankle in the spring, the Silas family never had to ask a charity or government program to help them. Now they go to the Food Action Network.

Really not a good feeling. You are supposed to be able to feed your family," Silas said.

Georganne Albertson didn't fit the census definition of poor, either. But that was last year – before she moved away from an abusive partner and into a motel. In May, the 43-year-old customer-service manager reluctantly quit her $8.50-an-hour job and applied for welfare because she couldn't afford day care for her two sons.

"It's been really horrible. I worked my tail off and I couldn't keep everybody fed and keep a roof over our heads," said Albertson. With welfare's help, she rents a house in Beachwood.

"Many families today are a paycheck away from homelessness," she said.

Poverty actually increased 20 percent or more among men and women in the 18- to 64-year-old group, said Philip Harvey, a professor at Rutgers Law School in Camden, who specializes in poverty and welfare reform.

"What these numbers tell me is that despite welfare reform and a substantially improved economy, we have not made any significant progress in our real goal of reducing poverty," Harvey said.

Welfare participation dropped, so did the use of food stamps. New Jersey ranked 45th, with only 115,855 of the state's households – 3.8 percent – participating in the program. But 30 percent of those 60 and older used food stamps – the third highest rate in the nation.

Jim Dieterle, director of AARP of New Jersey, was not surprised. "We have a significant population of lower-income older adults, especially in areas among minority older women," Dieterle said.

Word of mouth may be another reason why the elderly are so strongly represented. The Web page of AARP – the former American Association of Retired Persons – encourages people to find out whether they can participate in programs like food stamps, "and 19 percent are finding they do have a loved one who is eligible," Dieterle said.

The 2000 census probes deeper into the presence of family poverty by looking at the free and reduced-price school lunch program. Last year 172,736 families, or nearly 16 percent who had school-age children, participated.

Participation was much more dramatic in homes where one or both parents was missing. Only 17.3 percent of households headed by both parents used the program, while 66 percent of homes headed by single mothers and 40 percent headed by single fathers used the free or reduced-price lunches. Families run by grandparents and other relatives had a 60 percent participation rate.

The program's numbers rise and fall with the economy, said Elizabeth Walsh, financial management coordinator for the state Department of Agriculture's Child Nutrition Program. The reduced-price lunch group has steadily grown from a 7.24 percent participation rate in 1993 to 8.36 percent last year – perhaps a sign that family income is slowly rising, she said.

1) All date ratios are annualized.

2) All year ratios are based on estimates.

(3) This ratio relies on the maturity distribution of investments reported per 5300 instructions. Thus, the maturity distribution could be based on the repricing interval and not the actual maturity of the investment. The exam date ratio is calculated consistent with the prior years.

(4) For all years prior to 2000, net worth includes donated equity, which is not a regulatory component of net worth.

(5) Ratio is based on net charge offs over the previous 12 month period.
