Subject: Insurance Signage

I know the NCUA Board has a tremendous amount on their plate right now, and many of those are very good projects to be working on. Because of that it appears that maybe there has not been enough thought put into how we should transition from the current insurance coverage signage to the NEW signage. It would seem like the best approach would be to allow a two year grandfathering clause to insure that CU' s aren't saddled with an unnecessary expenses that will have little or no impact on how the members think based on a sign . Please consider the impact before making any decision that probably won't change the end objective and how members do business.
