Budget Information

NCUA Budget and Supplementary Materials

The NCUA regulates, charters and supervises all federal credit unions and insures members' deposits in all federally insured credit unions to the limits of federal law. Each year, the NCUA Board considers and approves a budget to support these activities.

The NCUA is committed to providing transparency about the agency's budget. The agency uses zero-based budgeting where every projected expense is justified. Below you will find materials related to previous budgets, including budget summaries, fact sheets, and information on the overhead transfer rate and operating fee. You will also find information describing historical trends related to the agency's budget.

Pursuant to the Presidential Memorandum on "Radical Transparency About Wasteful Spending," the NCUA performed a thorough review of all terminated programs, cancelled contracts, terminated grants, or any other discontinued obligation of federal funds and recovered $81,078.00 of unexpended funds through deobligation or pending refunds.
